

ARMY SONGS

HOLINESS.

Tunes.—Almighty to save: 102: Yes, Oh, yes, 115: Song-Book, 388.
 1 Oh, when shall my soul find her rest,
 My strugglings and wrestlings be o'er,
 My heart, by my Saviour possessed,
 De fearing and sinning no more?
 Now search me, and try me, O Lord!
 Now, Jesus, give ear to my cry!
 See! helpless I cling to Thy word,
 My soul to my Saviour draws nigh.
 My idols I cast at Thy feet,
 My all I return Thee who gave:
 This moment the work is complete,
 For Thou art almighty to save!

EXPERIENCE.

Tune.—I'll be true, B.T., 228.
 2 I'm so glad that Jesus found me,
 Put His loving arms around me,
 To Himself He tightly bound me,
 Hallelujah, I am saved!

Chorus.

I am saved, I am saved,
 Yes, Hallelujah, I know that I am saved!
 I am saved, I am saved,
 Saved to bring sinners to the Saviour.
 Jesus is the chief attraction,
 I have joy and satisfaction,
 Ever in the field of action,
 Hallelujah, I am saved!
 Let the Pentecostal Fire
 Purify all wrong desire,
 That my soul may mount up higher,
 Hallelujah, I am saved!

SALVATION.

Tunes.—Oh, wash me now, 121:
 Rocked in the cradle, 12: Song-Book, 31.

3 Behold Me standing at the door,
 And hear Me pleading evermore,
 With gentle voice: O heart of sin,
 May I come in, may I come in?

Chorus.

Behold Me standing at the door!
 And hear Me pleading evermore,
 Say, weary heart, oppress with sin,
 May I come in, may I come in?

I tore the cruel thorns for thee,
 I waited long and patiently;
 Say, weary heart, oppress with sin,
 May I come in, may I come in?

I would not deal with thee in vain;
 Remember all My grief and pain!
 I died to ransom thee from sin;
 May I come in, may I come in?

I bring thee joy from Heaven above,
 I bring thee pardon, peace, and love;
 Say, weary heart, oppress with sin,
 May I come in, may I come in?

4 Just as I am, I come to Thee,
 From every sin to be set free;
 Thou wilt in mercy come to me,
 This moment I believe.

O Lamb of God, for sinners slain!
 Take all my heart—within me reign!
 Thy Blood does cleanse from every stain,
 This moment I believe.

He tells me when, and where, and how,
 Just at His footstool as I bow,
 The Blood of Jesus cleanses now,
 This moment I believe.

St. Mary's, Ont.

On Sunday night, June 22nd, two souls knelt at the Cross, says M. Skipper. We have with us Cadet-Sergeant Patton from the Training College, and have been greatly blessed since our new Officers, Captain Gerow and Lieutenant Froude, have arrived. We have started the Junior Work.

THE GENERAL TO VISIT CANADA

GENERAL W. BRAMWELL BOOTH will (D.V.) visit the Dominion during the first week of November next. According to present plans, he will conduct the Fall Congress in Toronto, and will also visit other large centres. Further particulars will be announced later.

Newfoundland Congress

THE COMMISSIONER

ACCOMPANIED BY THE CHIEF-SECRETARY, MAJOR DESBRISAY, AND ADJUTANT DEBOW, WILL VISIT NEWFOUNDLAND, AND CONDUCT CONGRESS GATHERINGS AS FOLLOWS:—

SATURDAY, AUGUST 16TH.—Great welcome meeting in the St. John's Citadel.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 17TH.—11 a.m., United Holiness Meeting. Subject: "The Life and Work of General William Booth."

Tuesday, August 18TH.—Salvation meeting in the College Hall. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 18TH. Councils for Officers and Teachers.

BRIGADIER NOBLE

Temple, July 13 (afternoon and night).

MAJOR MORRIS.

Detroit, July 18th and 19th (accompanied by Chatham Band).

TERRITORIAL NEWSLETS.

(Continued from Page 8.)

A son arrived at the home of Adjutant and Mrs. Hoddinott, of Duncroft, Toronto, on June 25th. One of their boys, we regret to learn, recently fell off some broken glass, in a school playground, the wound in his hand requiring eight stitches.

Ensign Owen, residing at Kingston, Ont., was at Headquarters during the week, and had interviews with the Chief and Field Secretaries. Adjutant Smith, of London, Ont., and Captain Margaret McLean, of Fernie, were also visitors to Toronto.

By a recent arrangement, Ensign Sile, of the Property Department, now takes over, under Lieut. Col. Turner, the responsibilities of the legal and secretarial work of the Department, and Adjutant Green, the records, property insurance, and furnishings for Headquarters Staff.

Congratulations to Captain Ashby of Territorial Headquarters in his promotion to that rank.

The Men's Social operates in Vancouver, B.C., have been extended by the opening of a new 5000 sq. ft. store, so Lieut. Colonel Rea informs us. At Quebec, a house at the rear of the Metropole has been secured, to be used as a residence for better-class roomers, and as the Officers' Quarters.

Major Creighton led the meeting at the Whitby Hospital Farm on Sunday, June 20th. On the same day, Staff-Captain McAmmond, assisted by Captain Anderson (who faredwell) led the meeting with the men at Mimico, and Captains H. and W. Dray, at the Industrial Farm at Thornhill.

During the months of July and August, the Training College Sergeants, in pairs, will be supplying at a number of Corps in Ontario, the Officers of which will have a short furlough.

So far, fourteen Bandmen are among the number of Candidates already accepted for the next session of training in Toronto.

Staff-Captain White, of Vancouver, sprained one of his ankles a few days ago, and now, we regret to learn, has similarly injured the other ankle.—Captain Sparks, of Winnipeg, still has to use crutches as a result of his recent accident.—Captain Grace Cooper is improving in health, and was, with her mother, in Hamilton during the Staff Band's week-end.—We are glad to learn that Mrs. Major McLean's mother, who has been seriously ill, is improving slightly.

Reg, the son of Adjutant and Mrs. Stubbs, of the American Field (formerly of Canada), is at present assisting in the Property Department at Territorial Headquarters.

SWIFT CURRENT, SASK.

(Continued from Page 8.)

Sunday all day great crowds attended the meetings. At the heat of the drum the old-time warriors rallied to the front and joined in the attack.

During our visitation and cottage prayer meeting, three souls sought the Saviour. Three comrades were at the front on Sunday. The scattered forces are rallying around the standard, under the command of Captain Jones and Lieutenant Johnstone.

The farewell of Captain and Mrs. Benj. Bourne from Hamilton III, was much regretted. During their stay, the Corps prospered, and from the converts, quite a number of present-day Soldiers were recruited. The whole Corps enjoyed the leadership of the Captain and his wife. From crowds attended their farewell Sunday meetings. On the following Wednesday, the Soldiers arranged a farewell tea, in which about one hundred persons sat down. In the succeeding meeting one soul came forward.

WHILE ON HOLIDAY.

How can you expect to enjoy your holiday if you have not made up of getting "The War Cry" in your absence from home? Arrange with the Commanding Officer of your Corps to have the paper sent on to you, or write giving your temporary address to the publisher. The Salvation Army, James and Albert Streets, Toronto, who will send you "The War Cry" during your holiday on receipt of the usual price.

WE ARE Looking for You

READ THIS

To Parents, Relatives, and Friends:
 We will search for missing persons in any part of the globe, before and after, as far as possible, assist wronged women and children, or anyone in difficulty. Address, Lieut. Col. REES, 20 Albert St., Toronto, marked "Missing," or envelope. One Dollar should be sent with every case, where possible, to help defray expenses. In case of reproduction of photograph, $2.00 extra. (Price of Card)
 Officers, Soldiers, and Friends are requested to assist us by looking through the Missing Column, and send Col. Rees if able to give information concerning any case, always stating number of same.

INFORMATION URGENTLY WANTED

George Crouch.

Age 15, height 5 ft. 1 in., for his age, complexion fair, eyes, dark, hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a lived with M. A. and W. R. since he was a year old. Any information leading to his whereabouts will be appreciated.

THOMAS, HIRSHMAN, born 1878, age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Age 22, height 5 ft. 10 in., dark eyes, fair complexion, dark hair, missing the May 17th from his home, 534 St. Catharines, was wearing a sweater, a white waistcoat, a serge pants, a

Poor Leper Patients eager to Contribute to Self-Denial Fund (See Page 9)

THE

WAR CRY.

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE OF THE SALVATION ARMY IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND

Fortieth Year.

W. BRAMWELL BOOTH, General.

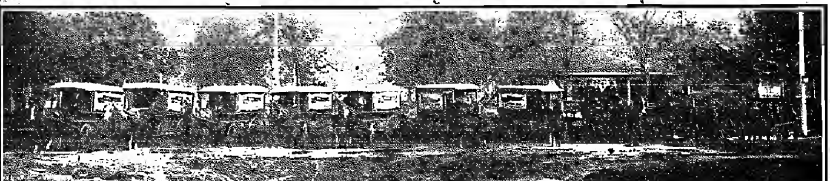

TORONTO, JULY 19, 1913.

DAVID M. REES, Commissioner.

Price, Five Cents.

Interior of Store in Queen Street West, Where There is a Constant Stream of Customers.

Group of Horses and Collecting Wagons.—There are in all Thirteen Horses.

Most of the staff of the Department—half a dozen were unable to be present.

The Salvage and Industrial Brigade and its Work

(See Page 9)

Success or Failure?

WHICH SHALL IT BE FOR YOU?

The late Dean Farrar once said: "There is only one real failure in life possible, and that is, not to be true to the best one knows."

We have often heard people who are well on in life say that if they were young again they would certainly become Salvation Army Officers. Such admissions ought to be of great importance to young people, especially to those who are undecided as to what action they should take in choosing a career. We can scarcely underestimate the value of long years of experience, and when people express themselves in this manner we have every reason to take careful notice of their opinion.

In the first place, they have closely watched the progress and examined the methods of The Army, and are therefore in a position fully to realize the opportunities it gives for noble and useful work.

It would be a great satisfaction to them to be able now to do such work, were it not for the fact that advanced age will not permit them to carry the heavy responsibilities associated with it.

This admission should be a warning to young men and women who have heard "the call to this work." It would say, "Do not hesitate nor delay, but make early preparation and plunge into the battle for the Lord, against the powers of darkness and the misery of sin."

Many young men will, for the moment, perhaps, attach great importance to their work at the bench or desk, and young women to their particular vocations, knowing all the time that there is something better and higher for them to do—work awaiting them in God's vineyard; to help lift the fallen, to nurse the sick, to assist the prisoner, and to tell of a Saviour Who is mighty to save.

How great will be their disappointment and how keen the ultimate realization of their failure in life if this call is not accepted!

Are you making the very most of your life? Give it to the service of God, for the extension of His Kingdom on earth. Give your energy, your enthusiasm, your time, and your talents. Give it gladly and unreservedly in order that your life may be the success that you will wish it had been when silver looks crown your head and you come to look back upon the active span of your years.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

DENOUNCED THE THEATRE.

Alexander Dumas Said Its Influence Is Immoral.

In a letter to a great Paris newspaper, the "Lemps," Alexander Dumas, the famous French playwright, who died in Paris in 1870, denounced in unmeasured terms the theatre of his day. He held that the influence of their profession upon young actresses was undeniably towards immorality.

So strongly did Dumas, who was certainly well acquainted with the inner life of the theatre, feel in the matter that in a subsequent conversation, he said:

"I have two daughters. When they feel that they ought to choose the stage as their life's career and

THE PRAYING LEAGUE.

1. Pray for Divine blessing to attend all summer schools, camp meetings, and open-air services.
2. Pray for the sick and suffering.
3. Pray for the Commissioner in all his work, and while resting in the Old Land.

DAILY PRAYER TOPICS.

- SUN, July 20.—King David's Lament. 2 Samuel 1:1-27.
MON, July 21.—Split in the Camp. 2 Samuel 2:1-10.
TUES, July 22.—Murder of Abner. 2 Samuel 3:12-39.
WED, July 23.—Another Murder. 2 Samuel 4:1-12; 5:1-5.
THURS, July 24.—Headquarters' Band. 2 Samuel 5:6-24; 6:2-5.
FRI, July 25.—Rejoicing. 2 Samuel 6:16-19.
SAT, July 26.—Acknowledgement. 2 Samuel 7:18-29; 8:1-6.

SELECTED THOUGHTS.

The Deeper Calm.
When the winds are raging o'er the work, were it not for the fact that advanced age will not permit them to carry the heavy responsibilities associated with it.

This admission should be a warning to young men and women who have heard "the call to this work."

It would say, "Do not hesitate nor delay, but make early preparation and plunge into the battle for the Lord, against the powers of darkness and the misery of sin."

Many young men will, for the moment, perhaps, attach great importance to their work at the bench or desk, and young women to their particular vocations, knowing all the time that there is something better and higher for them to do—work awaiting them in God's vineyard; to help lift the fallen, to nurse the sick, to assist the prisoner, and to tell of a Saviour Who is mighty to save.

How great will be their disappointment and how keen the ultimate realization of their failure in life if this call is not accepted!

Are you making the very most of your life? Give it to the service of God, for the extension of His Kingdom on earth. Give your energy, your enthusiasm, your time, and your talents. Give it gladly and unreservedly in order that your life may be the success that you will wish it had been when silver looks crown your head and you come to look back upon the active span of your years.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

The Candidates' Department is now making preparation for the next Session of Training for the Field, and the Women's Social Work. Both will commence on Thursday, September 21st. Decide for yourself now, and send in your application.—W. C. A.

And no rude storm, how fierce so'er it beeth.
Disturb the soul that dwells, O Lord, in Thee!
—Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Really Trusting.

How often we take things to God, and take them back again! Then we wonder why our troubles in connection with them do not cease. Perhaps it is we should try the plan of leaving with God the things that we take to Him, we should find our life a wondrous surprise of freedom and joy and power and victory. Dr. Mahalia J. Babcock once said: "What we can take to God we can trust to God." That puts it very simply; and any one can do this who will. Moreover, as Dr. Babcock reminds us, "I have yet yearned to take it to God, for 'in everything' . . . let your requests be made known unto God." This sweeping invitation just guarantees our entire life. Have we yet dared to take it to its full meaning—to really trust God?

Awkward Evangelism.

Let us be slow to criticize those who are doing a good work. Delavan L. Pierson speaks of an evangelist who had asked men and women to show their acceptance of Christ by rising and coming forward. After the meeting a young theological student said to him, "I was glad to see people converted to-night, but I don't just like the way you asked them to rise and come forward." "Neither do I," replied the evangelist. "How would you do it?" The young man hesitated, then answered, "Well I don't know that I would do it at all." "Then," replied the evangelist, "I like the way I do it better than the way you don't do it. It is easier to criticize awkward evangelism than to be evangelists ourselves. But Christ can wonderfully bless awkwardness when it is prayerfully and unselfishly devoted to telling others the good news of deliverance from sin and from death."

To "War Cry" Heralds

Your leaders and your comrades are deeply indebted to you for all your devotion and faithful labour in the interests of "The War Cry." We know you find joy in its work and that God rewards you. He will, we are sure, reward you more and more.

Before going away for your holiday, which we hope will be profitable.

ask me to introduce them to a theatrical manager, I shall be ready to go with them; not by carriage; we shall walk, and I shall take them by the River Seine, and as we come to the place where the current is the strongest, I will thrust them into the water. Then I will offer myself to the authorities to testify before God and men that my hands are clean of all guilt. A thousand times rather on the bottom of the Seine than in the pool of degradation into which the theatre sinks its actresses."

HIS MAJESTY THE BABY.

How His Mother Should Treat Him.

There are some good general rules for the care of the baby in summer. Don't let people handle or kiss the baby.

Bathe the baby daily and on very hot days keep his temperature down by one or two sponge baths. Do not forget that the baby needs water. Give him plenty, as water is a means of keeping the skin active and healthy.

The baby needs fresh air all the time, and sleeping out of doors is desirable.

Keep the baby quiet after eating. Never feed the baby in good humour. He cries. Find out what the trouble is. Babies do not cry if well, comfortable, clean, and properly dressed.

If the baby is well, yet sits up milk after feeding, he is probably getting too much.

Never use "comfies." Nap in the middle of the day will keep the baby in good humour.

Keep the house clear of flies and protect the baby always from all sorts of insects.

Put your child, and by so doing you will know when something is wrong with him.

A WINNIPEG

Salvation on Saturday.

While living in the city of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and seeing the crowds of people, consisting of all classes, from the man of education down to the once poor, up and propped that Christ had given their sins, those words that Peter spoke when standing before Cornelius in Caesarea, have often come to me—"Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons."

Since living in Winnipeg, those words have assumed a greater aspect in my mind. On going round our open-air at Winnipeg, one is immediately impressed with the number of nationalities represented, both in our ranks and amongst the outside crowds.

The best of our open-air are held on Saturday night, from eight o'clock until midnight. This used to be held on the corner of Main Street and Higgins Avenue, but owing to the congestion of traffic and the possibility of our disturbing the thoroughfare, we have been obliged to move a mile south, to the West Hotel; and now our crowds are not so good.

As soon, however, as a Saturday night steps a small crowd begins to gather, and by the time we start we have about thirty people standing round, consisting largely of foreigners. After we have played a few songs, we go right away into a testimonial meeting. Possibly the first to speak will be a Canadian, or a Scotchman, or an Englishman, or a Canadian; and then our songs, and our Band-Sergeant, a Finlander, will give his little in broken, but nevertheless good English.

Usually, about this time there usually be seen a hundred or two hundred people gathered around. After a chorus or two, a brother whom we know by no other name than Victor, will speak in English for about ten minutes, and we can see a smile of pleasure pass over the faces of those who do not know English, but who can understand our contralto. Then the Sergeant-Major will put the drum down and ask for the offering. Immediately he does so a brother named (by the "John") will speak in English for about ten minutes, and we can see a smile of pleasure pass over the faces of those who do not know English, but who can understand our contralto. Then the Sergeant-Major will put the drum down and ask for the offering. Immediately he does so a brother named (by the "John") will speak in English for about ten minutes, and we can see a smile of pleasure pass over the faces of those who do not know English, but who can understand our contralto.

The Band usually plays while the collection is being gathered in, and afterwards John addresses his little low-countrymen in Russian for about a quarter of an hour. Although we cannot hear what he is saying, the earnest expression on his face is enough to convince us that he is telling the people of the love of Christ to the world. The Russian-speaking people are in the majority at our open-air meetings, and therefore John does a great work that we who speak English can never do.

After the announcements and the singing of "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," we go home and get ready for the coming day, that we are privileged to take our part in this great Salvation work.

Officers and comrades generally, but especially those from other parts of the Territory, who from time to time, be it said, are quartered in Toronto, are expected to make a point of the Editorial Department.

any talk of unfavourable climatic, but an eminent physician recently said that the most deadly climate he knew was that of the "open bedroom." There can be no doubt that very much of the weakness, the "fired feeling," the sense of incapacity, the nervous exhaustion, from which so many suffer in these any talk of unfavourable climatic, but an eminent physician recently said that the most deadly climate he knew was that of the "open bedroom." There can be no doubt that very much of the weakness, the "fired feeling," the sense of incapacity, the nervous exhaustion, from which so many suffer in these any talk of unfavourable climatic, but an eminent physician recently said that the most deadly climate he knew was that of the "open bedroom." There can be no doubt that very much of the weakness, the "fired feeling," the sense of incapacity, the nervous exhaustion, from which so many suffer in these

America's National Staff Band

AN INTERVIEW WITH LIEUT.-COLONEL JENKINS, THE BAND LEADER—SOUL-SAVING IN UNION '80, NEW YORK—SEVEN HUNDRED YEARS OF SERVICE.

But you see, all our Bandmen, bar one, are either Officers or employees engaged in active service at the National Headquarters, and it is therefore not a difficult matter to arrange a practice. When we are nearing the part!

Reflecting on the Band's visit to Toronto several years ago, we naturally asked about the Bandmen. "The year our Staff Band," replied the Colonel, "we have to say farewell and welcome quite frequently, and as a result, our Band has some new members. Still, there is a good proportion of the 'old brigade' left, and, oddly enough, two former Bandmasters are still playing with us—I refer to Major Anderson and Brother Jost Griffiths." "Then your present Bandmaster is—"

"Captain G. Darby, and a very competent one he is. Besides, he is a composer of talent, and his compositions are of no ordinary merit. As a leader of singing, we think he can't be beaten, and the way in which he has trained the entire Band in effective vocal work is a credit to him, as your own Staff Bandmaster, Adjutant Hingman, and others from this side, who have visited New York, can testify."

"Have the men had special facilities for practice?"

"Well, no, because they practice only once a week, and so this time they cut down their dinner hour."

As an active Bandman, who has travelled with the Band, and knows the Colonel intimately, says that he is an ideal leader, a solid, wholesome, all-wise "father over all." And yet he is "one of the boys" on any and every occasion, and he travels with his Band to a very early hour.

(Continued on Page 12.)

we chose our food in a similar fashion! Suppose a hungry man were to turn away from a well-set table, comprising a bountiful supply of pure, wholesome, delicious food, and going out into the back yard, try to satisfy his hunger with the little fragments he might be able to fish out of the dust-bin. Could we regard such a man as anything but a lunatic? And yet he is "one of the boys" on any and every occasion, and he travels with his Band to a very early hour.

(Continued on Page 12.)

Sometimes people say they close the windows to keep out the dust. This is to strain at a gnat and swallow a camel. The air which comes from our lungs contains dust, and is far more dangerous character than dust. In fact, these poisons thrown off in the breath are even more deadly than the grosser wastes that we are so careful to carry off by our systems of drains. To put the plain unvarnished truth in other words, it would be less unwholesome to sleep in a well-lit stable than in a close, stuffy bedroom.

Ventilation, rightly considered, is a system of sewage for carrying away the foul products excreted through the breath, and it is exceedingly unclean, as well as inimical to health, to work or sleep or take recreation in an unventilated room.

It is only fair to say in closing that many people are awaking to the importance of fresh air. The excrementaries are doing a good deal in this direction. Still, there is a vast amount of ignorance and apathy which our readers should do their utmost to dissipate.

How irrational! Could anything be more irrational? Air is a food. We are agitating for a pure food supply, and yet we are deliberately, day by day, taking the food that passes into our lungs. Nature offers us an abundant supply absolutely free, but we

How irrational! Could anything be more irrational? Air is a food. We are agitating for a pure food supply, and yet we are deliberately, day by day, taking the food that passes into our lungs. Nature offers us an abundant supply absolutely free, but we

How irrational! Could anything be more irrational? Air is a food. We are agitating for a pure food supply, and yet we are deliberately, day by day, taking the food that passes into our lungs. Nature offers us an abundant supply absolutely free, but we

How irrational! Could anything be more irrational? Air is a food. We are agitating for a pure food supply, and yet we are deliberately, day by day, taking the food that passes into our lungs. Nature offers us an abundant supply absolutely free, but we

How irrational! Could anything be more irrational? Air is a food. We are agitating for a pure food supply, and yet we are deliberately, day by day, taking the food that passes into our lungs. Nature offers us an abundant supply absolutely free, but we

How irrational! Could anything be more irrational? Air is a food. We are agitating for a pure food supply, and yet we are deliberately, day by day, taking the food that passes into our lungs. Nature offers us an abundant supply absolutely free, but we

How irrational! Could anything be more irrational? Air is a food. We are agitating for a pure food supply, and yet we are deliberately, day by day, taking the food that passes into our lungs. Nature offers us an abundant supply absolutely free, but we

How irrational! Could anything be more irrational? Air is a food. We are agitating for a pure food supply, and yet we are deliberately, day by day, taking the food that passes into our lungs. Nature offers us an abundant supply absolutely free, but we

"TO HAVE AND TO HOLD"

Captains Best and Reid United in Marriage in Toronto by Colonel Gaskin.

One by one the "Boys of the Old Brigade," as the Staff Band men are sometimes called, are crossing in the delightful country of matrimonial bliss. The latest one to take this step is Captain Gilbert Best, and the young woman whom he has chosen to be his life partner was formerly Captain Maude Reid.

To see them formally wedded, a large crowd assembled at the Toronto Temple on Thursday, July 3rd. Colonel Gaskin was the presiding Officer, and he kept things going as merrily as the proverbial marriage bell.

The presence and blessing of God having been entreated by Adjutant Harpagon and Staff-Captain Hayes, a solo was sung by Captain Gonyea, the best man. The Colonel then made sundry wise remarks concerning marriage and the effect it should have on the characters of those who enter into this relationship. He also spoke of the bride and bridegroom, saying that they had both shown themselves to be godly, earnest, and devoted Salvationists, worthy of the fullest confidence of their leaders. He then read the Twenty-third Psalm.

A selection by the Staff Band and the happy couple were asked to stand while Major Phillips read the Articles of Marriage.

"If you wish to be married under these conditions stand forward," he concluded. There was no hesitation about the way the Captains obeyed this injunction, and in a few minutes, after they had made the usual declarations and responses, they were declared man and wife by the Colonel, who committed them to God in a fervent prayer.

A number of messages of congratulation were next read by Brigadier Potter. These included a telegram from the parents of Captain Best at St. John's, Nfld., and a message from the Chief Secretary, wishing the young couple a happy and useful future.

The Brigadier expressed the good wishes of the Staff Band, and the hope that "life's sorrows may touch them gently, and that God's blessing will be on them"; and Mrs. Major whom the bride has been stationed for the last year, also spoke, and a little later took part in a duet with Mrs. Captain Best.

The bride and bridegroom testified in a dignified and modest manner, expressing their wishes for the future in true Salvationist style. All then joined in a consecration chorus, and the interesting gathering was brought to a close with prayer by Brigadier Stanyon, from New York.

HALIFAX NOTES.

A Full and New Budget.
A few notes from the Halifax Division may not be out of place, even though some of them are a little belated. We are still heading in the right direction, and can report satisfactory progress.

Captain and Mrs. Fry have taken hold well of Dartmouth, and are full of faith for a successful stay there.

The new Lieutenants, namely, Lieutenants Phillips, McLaughlin, Mont, Jones, and Chambers, are settling down to the fight in real Salvation Army style, and are going to give a good account of themselves. Without exception they are in to make a success of life as Salvation Army Officers.

Babies Fullerton and Hind, late arrivals in the Division, are doing splendidly, and their parents are justly proud of them.

Captain Fullerton has succeeded in organizing a little Band at Sydney, and on the recent visit of the Divisional Commander it rendered splendid service, and was a real help both in the open-air and in the inside meetings. Sydney Corps is advancing, and we are looking for still greater things.

Adjutant and Mrs. Ritchie, of Halifax I., are conducting a rousing Summer Campaign. At the open-air tremendous crowds gather to listen to the testimonies of the comrades, and a red-hot prayer meeting, with the drum-head appeal, is held at the close of each service. During the last two weeks seven souls have been led to the drum-head, and four have taken their stand for Christ in a decided way.

Captain and Mrs. Deteroit are full of faith for a successful time at Sydney Mines.

Adjutant and Mrs. Bradbury are been warmly welcomed to New Brunswick.

On a recent Sunday ten souls knelt at the Cross at Halifax I., and on the following Sunday nine more souls found Christ.

Captain McAvoy, at Piccolo, is forging ahead. Souls are being converted. Lieutenant Jones is ably helping the Captain.

The Junior War is progressing favourably in every department. Ensign Hind, of North Sydney, is on the hunt for brass instruments, which means that there is an movement on foot in that Corps to organize a Band. We sincerely trust that the Ensign and his Locals will be successful in their quest.

Captain and Mrs. Best, recently married in Toronto.

Mrs. Captain Richardson, of Halifax II., has been heavily holding the forth while the Captain has been on his journey to the West. She will, no doubt, rejoice when the "wanderer" returns. God has wonderfully helped her, and a number of souls have found Christ during the Captain's absence.

More to follow. (The sooner the better, most worthy reporter!—Ed.)

SITUATIONS WANTED!

For Widows—And Homes for Children.

Among the immigrants who are coming from the British Isles under the auspices of The Salvation Army there are a number of widows having with them one child upwards of three years of age. For these women we desire to secure suitable

UNITED UNDER THE FLAG

Captain F. Johnston and Lieutenant Hoffman Wedded by Major Barr at Dartmouth.

Not many events in the history of much interest and enthusiasm marked the wedding of Captain F. Johnston and Lieutenant Hoffman on Monday night, 28th. The Captain, for about four months, was in charge of the Company, and had gained more than ordinary popularity among his people in the town; his soldiers, and the whole Corps, acknowledge that The Army's Work had led to his command. That he had been so was evidenced by the cheering crowd which squeezed its way into the Hall on the wedding night.

Captain and Mrs. Best, recently married in Toronto.

Major Barr was in command, assisted by Mrs. Barr and a number of Officers from Halifax City and Divisional Headquarters, and the bride by Lieutenant Barr.

After Adjutant Byers the Chaplain, had read a Scripture portion, the Major read the Marriage Contract, and then performed the usual, but beautiful, ceremony.

Captain Dray and Lieutenant Riley spoke concerning the duties of Captain and Mrs. Johnston as they had seen and known them, and Mrs. H. Ritchie gave welcome. Major Barr read a number of congratulatory messages, and then the happy couple spoke.

The bride, by the way, was a Soldier under the Captain who was stationed at Dartmouth, and she has of late been stationed at Vancouver.

At the close of the gathering a wedding banquet was held in the lower Hall. Sister Spence, of the Church, was responsible for the arrangements.

Captain and Mrs. Johnston are now stationed at New Westminster. (Photos of our comrades appear on page 10.)

A FIRST LOVE.

It is interesting to read, on "All the World," that General Booth's first public service in the then embryo Salvation Army was to gather in a stable the crowd of wild, shoe-headed boys and girls in the East End of London, in order to take them to the barracks to the Soldiers' Home.

He has been a "first love" with the development of The Army to a world-wide organization, which has brought within our grasp the thousands of young men and women who have been lost to the time and his best thought to relating a comprehensive and serious business.

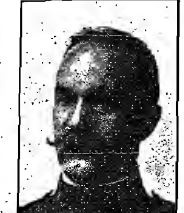

LET US PRAY!

NOTES OF AN ADDRESS BY ADJUTANT W. SQUAREBRIGGS, LIPPINCOTT STREET, TORONTO.

"Lord, teach us pray."—Lamentations. Our Lord had been praying in a certain place, and when he had ceased, one of his followers said unto Him, "Lord, teach us to pray." It was to say the least, a praise-worthy desire, for none could teach how to pray like our Lord. He therefore gave them a model, commonly called The Lord's Prayer; but which correctly speaking is The Disciples' Prayer.

There are conditions of prevailing prayer, which it would be well for us all to learn, in order that we might pray intelligently and in accordance with the word and will of God.

There must be entire dependence upon the merits and mediation of the Lord Jesus Christ, as the only ground of any claim for blessing. We find our proof for this claim in the following Scripture verses:—"And whatsoever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son; and—'Whatsoever ye shall ask of the Captain Andersen.

Who has been transferred to South America, and is now on the journey thither.

ter," the Captain said good-bye to his comrades. The Chief Secretary, Colonel Maitland, led the meeting, and spoke highly of the Captain's service. He also delighted those present by singing a solo in Spanish in the language which Captain Andersen will have to learn, and by an interesting description of the South American Territory. He was, he said, particularly interested in our far-reaching comrades; for it was in Denmark that he (the Colonel) began his foreign service, and he believed that the Captain was the first Danish Officer to go to South America.

Lieut. Colonel Rees, the Men's Social Secretary, paid a glowing tribute to the Captain's splendid Salvation Army spirit, his hard, faithful toil and love for the fight. His farewell was a distinct loss to the Department. Staff-Captain McAmmond also spoke.

"No man in Toronto is happier than I am to-day," said the Captain in his good-bye address, which stirred the hearts of his hearers. He thanked God and The Army for the position he had been given, and declared that wherever he might be, he would always be found serving his own hearts, even from themselves.

Colonel Gaskin, in prayer, committed our comrades to the loving care of God, and prayed especially those who are toiling in the beautiful, but unlighted land to which he has now gone. "God be with you all we meet again!" was sung as a parting wish for the Captain, who left Toronto for New York that same night.

[Brief facts and incidents describing the Salvation Army life and work are always wanted for publication in the "War Cry." They should be addressed to The Editor, "The War Cry," 1101 Commercial, Headquarters, Jones and Albert Streets, Toronto.]

LET US PRAY!

NOTES OF AN ADDRESS BY ADJUTANT W. SQUAREBRIGGS, LIPPINCOTT STREET, TORONTO.

"Lord, teach us pray."—Lamentations. Our Lord had been praying in a certain place, and when he had ceased, one of his followers said unto Him, "Lord, teach us to pray." It was to say the least, a praise-worthy desire, for none could teach how to pray like our Lord. He therefore gave them a model, commonly called The Lord's Prayer; but which correctly speaking is The Disciples' Prayer.

There are conditions of prevailing prayer, which it would be well for us all to learn, in order that we might pray intelligently and in accordance with the word and will of God.

There must be entire dependence upon the merits and mediation of the Lord Jesus Christ, as the only ground of any claim for blessing. We find our proof for this claim in the following Scripture verses:—"And whatsoever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son; and—'Whatsoever ye shall ask of the

His oath. Not to believe Him is to make Him a liar. For the Word says, "Without faith it is impossible to please Him; and as one comes to God in prayer he must have faith, and faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God."

Faith in the promises goes a long way in helping God to answer prayer. In the eleven chapter of Hebrews we see how much was accomplished through faith; and it is the same to-day.

Another condition of prevailing prayer is that we must seek in accordance with God's will. Our motives must be pure. We must not seek any gift of Him to procure it upon ourselves.

In the first Epistle of John we read, "And this is the confidence that ye have in Him, that if we ask anything according to His will He heareth us. And if we know that He hear us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of Him."

If we knew God's will thoroughly and if we submitted to it heartily,

BEWARE OF THE UNREAL!

BY THE MOTHER OF THE SALVATION ARMY.

Any theory which leads men to suppose that they are safe without being actually saved is the most dreadful of all!

Such a theory adds an additional opiate to the deceit of the heart, and prevents the truth from troubling the conscience. The only use of appealing to the understanding of the unregenerate is that through the understanding you may get at the heart; but Satan has "blinded their minds" by some intellectual opiate there is no chance. The understanding is darkened, the conscience seared, and the soul paralysed. A man is either saved or not. The fact is independent of his theory; and it is of comparatively little consequence what his theory may be if he is saved. Hence, many savages and Catholics have rejoiced in a consciousness of pardon, while many evangelists have never known it.

A man is either under the dominion of sin, or else he is delivered from it. If he is under the dominion of sin, what an awful theory is that which makes him believe he is saved! Could the devil have invented a more damning theory than that? And yet, alas! he allures millions to destruction through it, who otherwise would take alarm and begin to seek salvation.—Catharine Booth.

Father in My name, He may give us anything for soul or for body which He would not perform.

Again, there must be importunity in our supplication. There must be waiting on God and waiting for God, as the husbandman has long patience to wait for the harvest. We see the importunity of the poor widow in the parable. Christ was thus teaching that men ought always to pray and not faint, and He illustrated it by the persistent appeals of this woman before the judge.

The woman urged her cause with frequent supplications; in fact, she made herself troublesome to the judge, until he got weary, and gave her the desire of her heart.

So with us as we come to God in prayer. We must urge frequently and appeal in the spirit of importunity, and God will hear in Heaven. His dwelling-place, and give us the desires of our hearts.

Let prayer be the key of the morning, and the bolt of the evening, indeed, let us continue in the spirit of prayer.

Let us have more secret prayer: more family prayer: more public prayer. Christ never taught His disciples to preach, but He did teach them to pray. Let us write in our petitions and push prayer with prayer. "Lord, teach us to pray."

SOUL-SAVING IN AMERICAN SOCIAL WORK

A Conversation With Brigadier and Mrs. Stanyon, of New York.

The spiritual results attending the Social Work in the United States must certainly form one of the green and refreshing fields of the flourishing American Territory. Commander Miss Booth, during her recent visit to Canada, spoke to "The War Cry" of this gratifying aspect of the Men's Social operations, and in conversation with Brigadier Stanyon, when he was in Toronto a few days ago, we learned that in New York there is a properly-organized Corps in connection with its episcopal Social Institution.

"There are," he said, "between 40 and 50 Soldiers and Local Officers there and two women Officers are in charge. These Officers do the regular out-lying Soldier work of a Corps, holding the usual open-air and indoor meetings, with the exception that Sunday morning is entirely set apart for the direct spiritual profit of the men of the institution, about two hundred in number, and that that meeting is taken by the Manager."

The Brigadier is Men's Social Secretary for the Mid-Western States, having the direction of nearly fifty institutions, with central offices in New York, and while still speaking of spiritual results of the Social Work, said that within the last eighteen months in that section they had made sixteen Officers.

The tendency of The Army's Social operations in the States, the Brigadier judged, is towards the establishing of Hotels or Men's Clubs, in which the men could get a bed for a quarter a night. There are very few men who cannot afford that.

And in the Hot Days, Too!

"This is not the Bogey-man, but the Man with a Terrible Temper. Look out for him, and should he be in his moments of sanity ask what he is to do with his terrible temper, counsel him kindly, give him the correct name—call it Sin, and to seek salvation from it."

he said, and owing to the difficulty of getting hotel accommodation away from the domination of drink, there is great need for such buildings as The Army is building. Very few institutions of this kind are either already running, or soon will be.

(Continued on Page 15.)

Adjutant and Mrs. Habkirk (centre), of Toronto Salvage Department, is seated second to left, front row.

Phillips, who had known Captain Best at St. John, Vancouver, and Toronto, spoke of his character, and wished him and his wife every happiness.

"Where are the Boys of the Old Brigade?" was rendered by the Staff Band Male Choir.

Captain Bonyea smilingly described himself as "a sympathetic bachelor." Captain McLean, who having a well-earned furlough before going to their new appointment.

The next item is a little late, we know, but we pass it on nevertheless.—We reached our Divisional target, every Corps in the Division with the exception of one reaching the sum set for them.

Captain and Mrs. Johnston have finished their honeymoon, and have situations as domestics, housekeepers, etc.

Homes for children, principally boys, five years of age and upwards, are also urgently needed.

Information likely to assist us in securing such situations or homes or definite offers will be greatly appreciated. Letters should be addressed: Immigration Secretary, at Albert Street, Toronto, Ont.

Gazette

Marriages:

Ensign William Adams, out of Nelson, B.C., 11.1.04, last stationed at T. H. Q., to Captain Alice Maud Pease, out of the Temple Corps, Toronto, 27.03, last stationed at Lethbridge, by Brigadier Stanton, on June 20th, 1912, at the Temple.

Captain Daniel Hale, out of Westville, N.S., 19.06, last stationed at Territorial Headquarters, to Lieutenant Edith Netting, out of Niagara Falls, 27.6.12, last stationed at Ridgeway, on June 26th, 1913, at Dundas, by Brigadier Taylor.

Captain Gilbert Best, out of St. John's, Newfoundland, 13.7.08, last stationed at Territorial Headquarters, to Captain Maud Reid, out of St. John's, Newfoundland, 20.3.11, last stationed at Nanaimo, at the Temple, Toronto, on July 3rd, by Colonel Gaskin.

DAVID M. REES,
Commissioner.

THE WAR CRY

PRINTED FOR THE Salvation Army in Canada, Newfoundland, Barabada and Alaska, by The Salvation Army Printing House, 18 Albert Street, Toronto.

MORE HEROES WANTED!

We give this week a piece of news that should stir the soul of every Salvationist Bandman in the Territory. The General himself has recognized in some practical form those acts of heroism and devotion, involving risk and sacrifice, on the part of Salvation Army Bandmen all round the world.

And the proposal arises out of the fact that, as "The War Cry" recorded at the time, an Army Bandman not many weeks ago gave his life in a courageous and successful effort to save a little girl from peril in the street.

We feel sure that the suggestion will meet with general and hearty approval.

But how does it affect us each and all personally?

The Salvationist that is worth his or her salt is a man or woman of quiet, but unflinching, courage, and the whole Army is everlastingly indebted to those comrades in all parts of the world, who have in years gone by, laid down their lives for the sake of others. They were courageous in the hour of danger and disaster, because of their habit of self-sacrifice. In the daily round and common task they counted not their own lives dear: they habitually thought of the needs of others. That is the spirit that makes first-class Bandmen, first-class Salvationists, and first-class men and women, whatever be the denomination badge they may wear. And that is the spirit of Jesus Christ.

GO AFTER THE "DRONES."

"It is the duty of every minister going into a new field work," says the Rev. W. R. Young, "to discover who are the 'drones' in the hive and see that they join in and do their part in the work of the church." In the Army we say, "Everybody has a part to play in the great Salvation War." And mind you get at it!

Next Week!—A report, with illustrations, of The Army's Day Schools in Newfoundland.

The Commissioner.

Latest news from the Commissioner to the Chief Secretary and other Officers, speaks of his having arrived at International Headquarters and of the doctor's pronouncement regarding his health. These letters confirm the view which we were able to report last week.

Readers of "The War Cry" will, we know, continue to pray for the Commissioner.

HAPPY TWO WEEKS IN THE COUNTRY

The First Party of Poor Children Arrive at Clarkson's Fresh-Air Camp.

A happy and expectant crowd of boys and girls gathered at the Temple, Toronto, on Tuesday, July 8th. They formed the first party of youngsters to be taken to The Army's Fresh-Air Camp at Clarkson's, and numbered sixty.

After each had had a Fresh-Air Camp halloo pined on by Mrs. Major Findlay, they filed past Dr. Conboy, to be inspected from a health standpoint. They all passed satisfactorily. A photograph of the group was then taken by Staff-Captain Arnold.

The journey to the Camp was made by train, and at Clarkson's Station, two large farmer's rigs were waiting. Into these the children scrambled, and had a jolly two-mile ride through the country lanes.

On arrival at the Camp, Captain and Mrs. Watkinson and Sergeant-Major and Mrs. Pryde came out to greet them, and three hearty cheers were given for each.

A good dinner was all ready for the hungry little mortals, and they were soon seated at the tables and enjoying it.

They are in for a happy two weeks at the Camp, and will return to their city homes much benefited by the fresh air and the change. We hope to say something next week of their life at the Camp.

To continue this work we need

MEMORIAL Training College.

Newly-Purchased Site Probably Required for Street Extension.

Due to the demands of street extension, the Memorial Training College may not, after all, be erected upon the newly-acquired property on Jarvis Street, Toronto. In that case, another site will, of course, be found.

For some time it has, we understand, been known that there was some difficulty, if carried through, affect this property, and the announcement of The Army's proposal.

A deputinun accordingly waited upon the Board of Control a few days ago, when their principal spokesman, Mr. R. S. Goulay, urged that the residents in the vicinity were not in opposition to the work

Colonel Jacobs, Chief Secretary in Canada, is gratefully remembered. (See Territorial Newslets.)

recent purchase has revived that proposal.

A deputinun accordingly waited upon the Board of Control a few days ago, when their principal spokesman, Mr. R. S. Goulay, urged that the residents in the vicinity were not in opposition to the work the liberal assistance of the public. To give a boy or girl a two weeks' outing costs nearly five dollars, and The Army hopes to take three hundred children into the Camp this year.

Ready to Start for the Fresh-Air Camp. The First Party of Children, Photographed Outside the Toronto Temple.

Donations may be sent to Commissioner Rees, Salvation Army Temple, James and Albert Streets, Toronto.

We are sorry to say that Corps Cadet Violet Malmstedt is still in a week state of health following her recent operation, and is not yet able to return to duty.

of The Army, but they thought that the opening of the Don viaduct would make necessary another through street from the eastern end of the city. This, he said, must inevitably strike the property which The Army would be using, and their proposal was that it should be expropriated before the plans for the College were approved.

A final decision has not yet been reached in the matter, but we take it there is little doubt about the residents getting their new street.

We shall return to the subject.

Territorial Newslets

Headquarters, Toronto.

Colonel Jacobs, who was a welcome visitor at Headquarters a few days ago, is now rejoined in Toronto by Mrs. Jacobs, who has returned from Winnipeg, who has returned to direct a party of immigrants. They will probably leave for California on Wednesday, 16th inst., traveling via Chicago.

The Colonel is regretfully in a poor state of health, but it is hoped that change and rest may do much to restore him to strength and vigor. That these hopes may be realized, we are sure our comrades will earnestly pray.

Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Chandler are accompanying some of the Toronto Bands in week-end campaigns in Corps outside of the city during August.

Brigadier Noble recently visited Toronto and London, Ont., and on Tuesday night (July 8th) led a meeting at Hamilton, I., with the Divisional Commander and Hope Creighton assisting.

Major Alfred Jennings is accompanying Lieut. Colonel Turner on his tour in the Eastern Province, of which we spoke last week.

Mr. W. H. Fairbairn, the Director of The Army's Printing Works at St. Albans, England, gives an article which is published in "The Social Gazette," some impressions of his recent visit to Canada and the United States.

Staff-Captain and Mrs. Apple have arrived in Canada, and are at present on their way to Vancouver with a party of emigrants.

Captain Anderson led the meeting at the Whitley Hospital Farm on Sunday, July 6th, and the Capital farewelled. Captain Van der va and Brother Ritchie of the Immigration Department led on at Mines. Mrs. Adina Adams has just brothers, because of their own wrongdoing. If the powers that be say they must have another chance, The Army Officer is right there to receive them—these men on the mend. For this reason the Salvation Department is closely connected with the Prison Aid and Police Court Work; and without it, or some similar provision, the usefulness of these greatly-admired and certainly most worthy agencies would be very crippled.

Speaking of Toronto, therefore, no man, whatever his past, who is honest now to The Army, need lament if he is willing to work. Given that one simple condition, no one is denied. Major Fraser, the Prison Officer, and Adjutant Cornish, the Police Court Officer, turn invariably with the men whom they, on behalf of The Army, receive from the authorities. To Adjutant Hector Falkner, of the Salvation Department, and just as it is their delight to be able to take into shelter these ships in distress, so it is his pleasure to do all in the power of the Salvation Department to fit them again for the voyage of life and set them on their true course. Employers look to the Free Labour Bureau for hands, and if it is their delight to see a man in a better situation, the balance is employed within the Salvation Department. Those who, for the present, may be unable to go out to work, are also similarly provided for. During the month of May no fewer than 1,499 men were given employment by means of the Bureau, as many as two hundred requests for men having been received in one day.

These three Sections of the Men's Social operations—the Prison

the newspapers of cases remanded to The Army—the true romance of character transformation—the gleam and glow and joy that genuine men feel who realize that they are helping to lift up the fallen, to bring the liberty of God's great salvation to souls enslaved by vice and crime, and to restore such fully since—and you may now see him, himself a restored cabinet-maker, skilfully renewing old cabinets from among the waste material that has been collected by the Salvationists. For some weeks our friend came under the influence of the late Ensign Flaws, who took a deep interest in him, and he is most

(Continued on Page 12.)

Romance of The Army's Salvage Work

A LOOK BEHIND THE DUSTY COMMON-PLACE—MEN WHO ARE TRYING TO FORGET THE PAST AND LIVE PURE LIVES—WORK FOR THE WORKLESS FROM THE POLICE COURT AND PRISON—WITH THE WASTE OF THE WEALTHY RELIEVING THE NECESSITIES OF THE POOR—ALL IN ONE DAY'S WORK.

LOOKING FOR ANOTHER DIFFICULTY.

Having got one difficulty in the case of the out-of-work, we must next about to find another difficulty to pair off against it, and then out of the two difficulties will arise the solution of the problem.

I propose to establish in every large town what I may call a Household Salvage Brigade, a civil force of organized collectors, who will patrol the waste town as regularly as the policeman, who will have their appointed beats, and each of whom will be entrusted with the task of collecting the waste of the houses in their circuit—"In Darkest England and the Way Out," by General William Booth.

Aid, the Police Court, and the Salvage—run hand-in-hand (not to say heart-in-heart), with Lieutenant-Colonel Rees, the Men's Social Secretary, exercising over all a wise to the ways of respected citizenship. The Officers and Managers of the Toronto Salvage Department are alive to the meaning and possibilities of their task. They have the highest, the spiritual, interests of the men at heart, and Adjutant Falkner, while he talks to you of the changed life of this employee and that, eagerly anticipates the day when, in enlarged premises, he will be able to arrange for regular Salvation meetings with the men. That happy day may not, according to Colonel Rees, be very far away.

In the meantime, an average of fifty men is employed in the Salvage Department, and some of these, with an anxious desire to forget those things which are behind, are striving in the helpful surroundings and uplifting influences of their new work to live a renewed, that is, a goodly life.

So, toiling away in one of the rooms, you may find an old man who will speak quietly, reluctantly, and regretfully of the days that are no more. He will tell you that for crimes of forgery he has served three sentences in Kingston Penitentiary. The last was for ten years, and in view of his age the prison authorities scarcely thought he would live it out. When discharged, shortly before last Christmas, he was certainly in a weak state of health, but he has picked up wonder-grateful for the helping hand which The Army has extended to him.

Elsewhere on the premises you will meet another elderly man, who has also known something of the inner life of Kingston Penitentiary. Interpreting his story in the most kindly light, we judge he must have had an inordinate liking for horses. So it came about, over and over again, that, emerging from a saloon, under the influence of drink, this John would commandeer the first horse and buggy he could get hold of and drive off! But that was not, of course, the end of the affair.

In the Salvage Department he works with happy interest, and is spoken of in kindly terms by the staff.

Both of the men came under the influence of Major Fraser before their discharge.

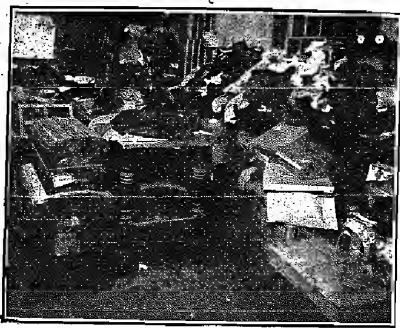

The collecting of the waste material is both a great and a well-organized undertaking. Six men canvassers are constantly employed, and these, every two months, cover the city and suburbs from Mimico to Scarborough, from Weston to East Toronto, from Bedford Park to the Island.

The canvasser is provided with cards which initially announce the purpose of the Salvage Department, and at the same time ask for cast-off clothing. Should the householder he out when he calls, another card is left, and a letter explaining the reason of his visit is afterwards sent.

Thirteen horses, with an attractive set of new rigs, are kept busy in gathering up the city's unconsidered refuse, including something of almost everything, from the value of a house full of furniture to that of a banana crate, or less.

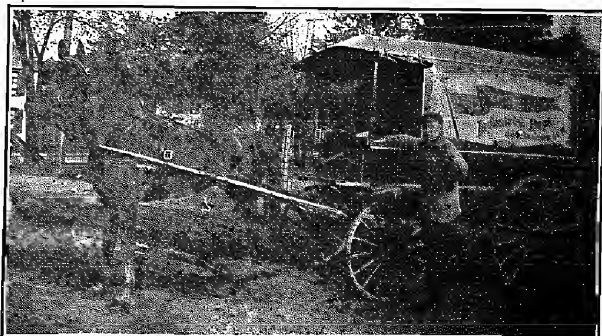

Old clothes that are no good for their original purpose are sent to the Rescue Home, to be there made up into children's garments.

They are then sold in one of the Shops, at a small price, to the deserving of a great work: God speed! And behind the dusty commonplace duty of collecting waste material and sorting dirty paper and old clothes—think of it when you see the bright new rigs, or read in the newspapers of cases remanded to The Army—the true romance of character transformation—the gleam and glow and joy that genuine men feel who realize that they are helping to lift up the fallen, to bring the liberty of God's great salvation to souls enslaved by vice and crime, and to restore such poor, who value the opportunity. There are three Stores: One at 24-26 Queen Street East, in charge of Adjutant Harpley; a new one at 655 Queen Street East, controlled by Mr. Trevellick; and the one attached to the main Salvage Building, 507 Queen Street West, over (Continued on Page 12.)

Interior of One of the Sorting Rooms.

A New Collecting Wagon With One of the Thirteen Horses.

News From the Field

Regina, Sask.

The welcome meeting to Ensign and Mrs. Weir was led by Staff-Captain Peacock, our Chancellor. A good crowd attended the meeting, which, says R. J. C., was presided over by a big man by the name of Soldiers. The Secretary, on behalf of the Corps, welcomed the new Officers. Junior Sergeant-Major Taylor spoke on behalf of the Junior Corps, and Sister Mrs. Upton for the sisters. The band played the "Weasle" and "Chadler" marches. Brother Morgan spoke on the Prison Work, and invited the Officers to pay a visit to the prison some Sunday. Bandmaster Henderson met the Ensign and his wife when in Scotland, and was, of course, pleased to see them again.

Brother Doyle spoke of the young People's Legion, the only one in Western Canada, so far as we know. Mrs. Staff-Captain Peacock read the lesson, and the Staff-Captain welcomed the Officers to the North-West Division. Ensign and Mrs. Weir gave brief, but pleasing, addresses.

Week-end meetings, June 29th and 30th, were led by Ensign and Mrs. Weir, our new Officers (says R. J. C.). Kneel-drill was well attended, and the Holiness meeting was very helpful. The Ensign, with Bandman Gascoyne and Brother Perkins, visited the prison, and thirty men, with tears streaming down their faces, asked for prayer. The Majestic Theatre was the scene of the afternoon and evening meetings. At night the Ensign referred to the fact that his first duty on coming to Regina was to bury the brother of our Treasurer, who was drowned at Edmonton. The band played the "Roll Call" selection, and Deputy-Bandmaster Ilett soloed. One soul sought salvation.

Westville, N. S.

Adjutant Byers was here on June 26th and 27th. His addresses were greatly enjoyed, especially that on Sunday afternoon, when he spoke on Heaven. The Juniors came in for a good share of the Adjutant's attention, and he was pleased with their answers to the questions on their lessons. Great credit is due Junior Sergeant-Major McLaughlin and Mrs. Captain Gillingham for Brother and Sister Anserude, Leithbridge.

These comrades, who were recently married, are, according to Captain Charles Tuttle, useful and willing workers in the Corps. Sister Ramsay has had charge of our publications and Brother Anserude is Record-Sergeant in the Junior Corps.

the present condition of the Young People's Work here.

Some of the New Glasgow Bandmen assisted us during the day.

Hesper.

During the three weeks that Captain Hesper was in the North-West, we have had more than fourteen souls have found Christ. Our Junior Work is progressing. The converts were out to open-air meetings, and take part in them.

Leithbridge, Alberta.

Sunday, June 29th, was "Soldiers' Sunday." The meetings, from Kneel-drill until the night prayer meeting, were conducted by the Officers, each being taken by a different person. At Kneel-drill, Colour-Sergeant Tulloch and Sergeant Haynes led. Secretary Tuff read the Holiness lesson, and Sister Mrs. Hopwood led a testimony meeting.

Sergeant-Major Wood and Reuben-Sergeant Tulloch were the leaders in the afternoon. At night, Sister Mrs. Rosine and Brother Wildish assisted. Junior Sergeant-Major Mrs. Stark read and spoke impressively, and Brother Tulloch and Sergeant-Major Wood led a vigorous prayer meeting, which resulted in two men finding salvation.

Captain and Mrs. Tate visited the jail, and held a meeting. Several of the men have recently been converted, and give good evidence of a thorough change of heart.

Calgary II.

The welcome meetings to our new Officers, Ensign Pearce and Mrs. Ensign, were very successful, says Uncle Will, and the Soldiers and Locals assured the new leaders of the highest confidence and co-operation for effective service. The surrender of souls has revealed their opening ministry, and there is abundant promise of a good harvest. All branches of the Corps are moving forward, particularly the Band and Junior Work. The latter under Brother Slow, the new Junior Sergeant-Major, assisted by Sergeant Lewis. Our good friend, Mrs. McElroy, sang very effectively in the Sunday night meeting.

Sudbury.

Two more souls have been saved recently. On Sunday night, Sister Mrs. Doyle forewelled for Montreal. Our converts are doing well, several having expressed a wish to become Soldiers. On Thursday, June 26th, a circus visited the town, and a recent convert (formerly of the Roman Catholic Church) stood with us for the first time, when we held an open-air meeting at the circus ground, and he helped to carry the drum. A good Corps will yet be seen at Sudbury.

Nelson, B. C.

On the occasion of the farewell of Captain and Mrs. Jackson, a musical meeting was conducted in the Hall, and apart from the local Soldiers, a number of prominent people in the town gave their services as a mark of appreciation of the work of the Captain and his wife.

Sincere regret is felt in the Corps and town at the departure of these Officers, whose labours will be remembered.

Captain and Mrs. Becroft were installed at Sydney Mines by Major and Mrs. Barr, on Thursday, June 10th. Many people came to see the new Officers and to give them a well-deserved welcome.

On June 10th, Shool Arm was visited by Ensign Oldford from Pilley's Island. In the meeting, one soul sought salvation. A wedding was afterwards conducted by the Ensign.

A Montreal Outing.

The Men's Social Department of Montreal went for their first annual picnic to St. Helen's Island, on June 26th, says A. E. W. The employees of the two institutions—the Metropole and the Salvage Department—had the privilege of bringing friends along with them. About fifty persons were present.

A number of Officers from other parts of the city were with us, including Mrs. Brigadier Rawling, also Adjutant Taylor from the Women's Home, Captain Marshall and Lieutenant Crowe, on their way from the East to Toronto, were visitors.

Tea was provided, and we had a very enjoyable time, in spite of a fall of rain.

Parliament St., Toronto.

On Sunday, June 29th, our meetings were led by our own Officers, Adjutant Chaplin and Lieutenant Crowell. At night, the Lieutenant took the lesson. The Adjutant led the prayer meeting—a meeting that will never be forgotten—for nine men and women knelt at the Mercy Seat. One couple, a backslider for many years, came running down the aisle, and got soundly converted. Not satisfied with being converted, they got up and dealt with a friend of his, and we had the joy of seeing the two men kneeling side by side at the Mercy Seat.

Junior Sergeant-Major Le Marquis is working hard among the Juniors. On Sunday night, three "Young People" knelt at the Penitent-form.

Brookville.

We concluded our week-end meetings, June 28th and 29th, with a public convulsion of Sister Rose M. Hargreaves, daughter of a Baptist minister, and Sister Bella Edwards, daughter of Brother and Sister Edwards, on Sunday night. The congregation was moved by the ceremony.

Brother McDonald prayed, and Brother Sylvan spoke of the joy that brought him to see his daughter taking her stand with The Army. Brother Barton gave the new comrades some good advice.

Shelbourne.

On Sunday, June 29th, says Lieutenant Chambers, the meetings were led by Captain Harty, our new Officer. On Tuesday night, a backslider returned to God. On Thursday night, the Captain spoke on "Three Kings and Their Bedsteads." The Hall was nearly full.

Our Soldiers are in splendid fighting trim.

St. Mary's.

A backslider for three years recently knelt at the Penitent-form, and surrendered pipe, tobacco, and matches. While kneeling he announced his determination to be an out-and-out Salvationist. Another brother, one of last Sunday's converts, knelt at this other brother's side, and prayed for him.

Montreal II.

On Sunday, June 29th, says Sister Turvey, we had welcomed from the Holy Land, Sister Walden, who was at a meeting, and six at night, for salvation, including two Newfoundlanders, who had a Hallelujah dance after God had spoken peace to their souls.

Montreal IV.

We were visited by Adjutant Gosling on Sunday, June 29th. The Adjutant gave three helpful addresses. There were two surrenders in the morning. At night, our open-air was held near Barren and Bailey's circus. A huge crowd, including men of all nations, soon gathered round, and evidenced their interest in the proceedings.

At the close of the meeting in Hall, two souls came forward. One said that he had lost his wife, mother, and other relations. In his despair, he thought of doing away with himself. Instead he had come to the Hall—he couldn't explain why—but the Spirit of God took hold of him, and he got converted.

The other man came to this cry with the circus. He had tried before to serve God, but now he is determined to leave the circus and give his time to the service of God.

Captain and Mrs. Johnston, recently married at Dartmouth, N.S. (See Page 11)

On July 1st, the Senior and Junior Corps went to Longford for a picnic, says E. H. The Bandmen took their instruments, and in the afternoon played on a lawn belonging to a warm friend of The Army. The Bandmen were afterwards regaled with refreshments.

Girls and races for the boys and infants closed a happy day.

Ovilla.

Domination Day was celebrated by a very enjoyable picnic, arranged by the Junior Locals, at Bass Lake, in the morning, and a large number of the Soldiers, went out early in the morning, and we had a good day by the water. The highest credit is due to Junior Sergeant-Major Rogers and her sister. Hardly less than efforts to make everybody happy. The Senior Band returned early in the evening, and gave a grand musical festival in the Town Hall.

Bedford.

On June 28th, says E. W. D., a Junior Deaconess, Mrs. Bell, was in the Hall. At the close of the service, by the sisters, Mr. R. J. W. occupied the chair.

On Sunday, June 29th, one soul sought salvation.

Newmarket, Ont.

On Sunday morning, June 29th, at the close of the address given by Captain Taylor, a lady came to the Mercy Seat, and when dealt with by the Captain, gave up a wicked life, and sought salvation.

Prince Albert.

We have welcomed from the Holy Land, Sister Walden, who was at a meeting, and six at night, for salvation, including two Newfoundlanders, who had a Hallelujah dance after God had spoken peace to their souls.

FIFTY-SEVEN SEEKERS.

At Mercy Seat in St. John's, Nfld.—Fifteen Days of Revival Campaign.

The revival campaign at St. John's, Nfld., continues, and during the last week, twenty-five souls knelt at the Mercy Seat. On Tuesday night, the Rev. Mr. Thomas addressed the meeting. The auditorium was crowded, and the gallery was almost filled. Adjutant Hargreaves had charge of the meeting. The Junior Brass Band played "The Lives" and Mrs. Cochrane, of George Street Church, sang. At the close of the meeting, a number of persons knelt at the Penitent-form.

On Sunday, the Officers of the city took part during the day. Captain Fletcher, of the Day School, was in charge, and at night, ten souls came to Jesus, making a total of fifty-seven in fifteen days.

THREE NEW CORPS.

Promising Beginnings in Vancouver

"You will be pleased to know that we have successfully opened two new Halls," writes Brigadier Green; "one in Fairview and one at Cedar Cottage."

"Staff-Captain and Mrs. Crichon, with the Number 1 Songsters, were at Cedar Cottage for the first Sunday, and they had four seekers at the Mercy Seat. Mrs. Green and I were at Fairview with some Bandmen from No. 1. We had good congregations and a married couple at the Penitent-form."

A Corps has also been opened at South Vancouver.

Concerning Cedar Cottage, Captain Munro, who, with Lieutenant Snell, is the Commanding Officer, says:—

"The residents of Cedar Cottage seem delighted to have The Army amongst them, and we are believing that a good work for God will be done."

Circulation Increase

STEADY ADVANCE OF LAST FEW MONTHS DEVELOPS INTO AN INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS TROT. IS YOUR NAME WRITTEN THERE—AMONG THE RUNNERS?

For the last few months we are glad to say the circulation of "The War Cry" has been steadily advancing, although at present there is a slight decline, owing to the absence for a few weeks of Cadets from the Training College. That temporary drop will, of course, soon be levelled up—and more.

In the meantime, a Circulation Scheme has been inaugurated in connection with an International Congress Travelling Fund, and this has immediately called forth a very gratifying response on the part of the Field Officers whom it concerns.

We give below the names of some of the Corps that have increased their "War Cry" order within the last two weeks, with the number of extra copies they are now taking weekly.

CORPS THAT HAVE INCREASED THEIR ORDERS.

Cobalt (Captain and Mrs. Beckett), 200 copies extra; Guelph (Captain and Mrs. Buntin), 200; Hespeler (Capt. Speller), 50; Clinton (Capt. Walker), 50; Stratford (Adj. Cavender), 50; St. Mary's (Capt. Gerow), 50; Parliament Street, Toronto (Adjutant Chaplin), 50; Chester (Captain and Mrs. Parsons), 50; Rhodes Avenue (Captain and Mrs. Wilson), 50; Lindsay (Captain and Mrs. Cranwell), 25; Hailbury (Captain and Mrs. Rogers), 50; Dauphin (Lieutenant Green), 25; Vancouver III. (new opening; Captain Munro and Lieutenant Snell), 100; Vancouver IV. (Captain Liddard and Bell), 50; Vancouver V. (new opening; Captain Rowe and Lieutenant Snell), 75; Sudbury (Captain and Mrs. Hancock), 15; North Vancouver (Ensign and Mrs. Hurd), 50.

That is a very good beginning, and we hope to add to the list from week to week. The Scheme is good, and should, we think, warmly commend itself to Field Officers; but quite apart from any advantages an increase in circulation, there is the far greater fact of the value of "The War Cry" as a herald of Salvation and Holiness and an Army news sheet. For this reason more than any other we want to see a continual increase in the circulation that will be in keeping with the rapid growth of some of our towns and cities. Isn't the effort worth while? And won't you lend a hand?

The Editorial Staff are grateful to be told that "The War Cry" is "maintaining its traditions"; that is all right. But what is a great deal more to their liking is to see a steady increase in circulation.

Our warmest thanks and appreciation for the advance already secured is therefore mixed with the earnest hope that many other comrades may be quick to follow the splendid examples given them in the above list.

Army Missionary Officers Leaving London on Their Journey to India.

who were recently dedicated by The General in the Albert Hall for service in India and East, were escorted by a procession of Officers and Soldiers to Euston Station for their departure. The procession is here seen passing through Kingsway. (See another photograph on Page 13)

From the Watch Tower

Territorial Headquarters.

What could be more fascinating, notwithstanding its separations and heart-breaks, than work on The Army's Missionary Field. In proof, there is an interesting note from India's "War Cry":—

"N. B.—Wanted, wives for the settlers at Sahlgang—If any other Settlement Officers can oblige, please communicate with Ensign Kalyan Singh, The Salvation Army, Sanshi Colony, Gola Post-Office, Khert District, United Provinces." Poor stay-at-homes, we can only guess at its meaning; and the guess we make is that The Army carries its deep interest in the unfortunate criminal tribes so far as to arrange the marriages of such converts as give evidence of being truly changed. In any case, we are sure it is a good thing for the settlers.

The latest issue of India's "War Cry" gives a series of most encouraging reports of The Army's Work in the Criminal Settlements, to which many of the Missionary Officers who were recently dedicated in London (see Page 13) are appointed.

The Great Mystery.

How Thou canst love me as I am, Yet he the God Thou art, Is darkness to my intellect. But sunshine to my heart.

Although no two blades of grass are alike and every human face differs from every other face, we meet now and again astonishing resemblances. There is an Officer in Canada, for instance, who has often been mistaken for Colonel Jacobs, who is at present visiting the Dominion.

It is never, however, too safe a thing to mention these resemblances to the people most closely concerned (although we know the Colonel won't mind), and we remember a Salvationist reporter once getting his hair pulled (we speak figuratively) for suggesting that some Shock-headed Peter was so much like his comrade Shinespate that you could scarcely tell them apart. Well, if some fellows didn't learn by the things they suffer, they'd learn mighty little. And for the rest, beware of comparisons!

We are glad to give this week a description of the Leper Colony, which was some years ago handed over by the Government of Java to the control of The Army.

While much has been done to mitigate the unhappy lot of lepers generally, the dread disease remains, claiming in some parts of the world many victims every year and calling forth wonderful instances of devotion and self-sacrifice; such, for example, as that of Sir George Turner, who contracted the disease in the course of medical duties and investigations in South Africa and has now dedicated his remaining days to work and study in the interests of this fellow-sufferer.

Only a few days ago, it may be mentioned, one of the great authorities on leprosy, Sir Jonathan Hutchinson, passed away. He had made a life study of the disease, which he had often contracted by the eating of bad fish.

The Salvation Army is doing something to the memory of Sir "Esk" Phipps, of "Shobrook" of Kingsway. The procession is here seen passing through Kingsway. (See another photograph on Page 13) which Brother McGowan presides. These places are an unspeakable boon to the poorer working-class people, from which there is a steady, but almost unceasing stream of customers. The majority could not buy new clothes—many have, owing to a variety of causes, become reduced in circumstances. Collect "rag-waste" from the wealthy. The Army thus greatly aids the poor.

In The Better Land

ROMANCE OF THE SALVAGE DEPARTMENT.

(Continued from Page 9)

The turn-over in the two stores that were open in May averaged $300 a week, in addition to $300 made weekly in the warehouse. The work of the Department is getting more widely known, and the total income was, in the same month, more than twice that of the corresponding period last year. The weekly wage paid the men averages $10 per week—the total wage bill for May amounting to $2,424.

Other Departments, with their respective managers, beside those already named, are as under: The Office, Mr. Allen Brown; Industrial Department and Warehouse, Mr. Charles Patterson, assisted by Brother Bradley; Canvasing, Brother Barnes; Horseshoe and Stables, Mr. Roberts.

The men employed include tailors, shoemakers, carpenters, painters, drivers, paper-sorters, clothing-sorters, canvassers, and salesmen, besides unskilled help in each of those trades. In the month of May over 1,600 applications for help of one kind or another, mainly assistance in food and work, were dealt with, and fifty-five men, who were unable to work were assisted with food and clothing.

All in One Day. We asked the Adjutant and his capable Office Manager, Mr. Brown, for some description of an average day's work in the Department. They turned to the report of the previous day. Here it is:—

77 men were found employed outside the Department, 56 inside. Most of the inside men are permanent. Collecting wagons called at 430 houses. Canvassers visited 1,250 houses.

A woman who was burned out in Harbourside and had lost everything, was fitted up with clothes.

A man who came out of hospital was taken in hand to be got ready for work.

Three men arrived from the Police Court on remand. They were fed, cleaned, and put to work.

An old man whom the police had found sleeping on a York Street Bridge was taken in hand. He was 76 years of age; had been in the city many years, and never in trouble before. He was very dirty, his hair appearing jet black. He was put in a bath, and when he came out, two hours later, his hair and beard were white as snow! [We saw him at work.]

A man 65 years of age, a hopeless cripple, was taken in and assisted with meals and clothing, preparatory to making arrangements for his entry into hospital.

A load of firewood was drawn to a poor family.

Hospital and doctor visited, and arrangements made for a patient—a man with no friends—to be brought out of hospital. Work will be found for him when he is ready.

And that is the kind of thing the Salvage Department is doing every workday of the week! Isn't it worth talking about?

When you have read this paper, please post it to a friend who would not be likely otherwise to see a copy.

Sister Nellie Evans, Londonderry. Nellie, the only daughter of Brother John Evans, with whom we deeply sympathize, passed away at Londonderry on June 5th.

Since the beginning of the year, Nellie has been suffering from tuberculosis, and though at first friends hoped that with the brightening days and coming summer strength might return, this hope was vain, and she gradually faded.

She was only sixteen, and being of a most lovable temperament, a large circle of friends mourn her loss. Always gentle and thoughtful, she definitely gave herself to her Saviour's last supper.

All through the winter's illness she never murmured nor complained, and when shortly before her death she said, "I will go to sleep," that sleep was to awake in the eternal glory, where there is no more pain nor sorrow.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Judeo. At the graveside the Bible Class to which she belonged sang "Safe in

OF SUCH IS THE KINGDOM.

We need love's tender lessons taught
As only weakness can;
God hath His small interpreters;
The child must teach the man.

We wander wide through evil years,
Our eyes of faith grow dim;
The child is freshest from His hands
The nearest unto Him!

Of such the Kingdom!—Teach Thou us,
O Master, most divine,
To feel the deep significance
Of these wise words of Thine!

The haughty eye shall seek in vain
What innocence beholds:
No cunning finds the key of Heaven,
No strength its gate unfolds.

Alone to guilelessness and love
That gate shall open fall;
The mind of pride is nothingness;
The childlike heart is all.

the Arms of Jesus" and Ensign Galvay, of Truro, prayed. Captain Pace, who sends us the above particulars, adds that Nellie was a bright and energetic Salvation Soldier.

Luce Ryan, St. John's L. On Sunday, June 8th, the chariot loved, and our dear comrade, Luce Ryan, was taken to the skies, writes Adjutant Hargrove. About two weeks before she developed

[We are disappointed that the particulars sent us regarding the life and work, the last hours, and the dying testimony of promoted comrades are all too often so meagre and so general. We want to know of such incidents and sayings and expressions of opinion on the part of workmates and others that illuminate the character of the promoted warrior. Will correspondents kindly help us here?—Ed.]

FORGET THEM NOT!

Forget them not, O Christ, who stand
Thy vanguard in the distant land,
In flood, in flame, in dark, in dread,
Sustain them, pray, each lifted head.

Exalt them over every fear.
In peril come Thyself more near:
Thine is the work they strive to do,
Their foes so many, they so few.

Be with Thine own, Thy loved, who stand,
Christ's vanguard in the storm-swept land.

MERCHANTS ARE GRATEFUL.

A voluntary contribution (cheque) for the Kingston Booth Memorial Citadel, meant to campaign headquarters, contained the following note: "With best wishes for a continuation of your good work and especially that part of it that transforms and leads people into paths of rectitude, and makes them pay their debts. Merchants are indebted to the Salvation Army in many ways."—Kingston, Ont., "Standard."

MIND HOW YOU LIVE!

The Power of a Godly Example in the Family.

"A good and holy example lives forever in the memory of the child," says The General in his "Lives of Children." But without faithfulness at the family altar, how can the good living be maintained?

There may possibly be homes where the family altar is rarely or never erected, and yet in which the parents themselves are worthy examples to their children—there may be, but we think it is more difficult to find them. And yet a good and holy example lives forever in the memory of the child.

How is it possible? continues The General, "that the beloved face and form, the sayings and doings, and plans and purposes of father or mother should ever be forgotten? True, in the first rush and whirl of manhood and womanhood life there may be some sort of waning of interest in the home of childhood and the memory of those who filled the largest measure of space in it. Men's and women's occupations and employments create for a time new interests, which occupy and absorb the attention. But, as the journey of life goes forward, memory reasserts itself, and the influence of the holy example and good and godly parents is felt again, with perhaps greater power than ever, giving additional meaning and force and feeling to the operations of the Divine Spirit, and in a majority of cases, having a particularly powerful influence in the great work of personal salvation.

"We have heard of hundreds of people, from those in years of youth to those of hoary age, who, when publicly narrating the means by which the were led to the Saviour, connect their conversion with the recollection of a sainted mother's faith. Consequently, it seems to us that no means or agencies employed by God are of equal force, or can be calculated upon with such certainty, for accomplishing the salvation of the children as the example of good parents. Father, Mother, mind how you live!"

On Tuesday night, June 22nd, Jacob Vickers, aged fifteen, passed away to be with Jesus, writes Captain Becroft. He was one of our Young People, and we shall miss him very much, as he was a regular attendant at the Army meetings. Jacob suffered much, but never typhoid fever, and was removed to the hospital, where her death occurred.

Our Sister belonged to Adam's Cove, where her father and mother reside. She was converted about a year ago, and came to St. John's to live. Although only sixteen years of age, she gave unmistakable evidence of her acceptance with Christ. Our young comrade was particularly fond of the open-air services.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson, with whom Lucy lived, were very fond of her, and love to speak of her beautiful Christian life. At the time of her death they acted a father and mother's part to this little Soldier of Jesus. To all the sorrowing ones we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

During this period salvation meetings were held on week-day afternoons, and men and women would turn in for a few minutes from business or home duties to see what was going on, the men to go back to work with a new sense of wonder and perhaps conviction of sin, and the women excitedly to announce to a neighbour, "Your Joe's at the Mercy Seat!"

Whereupon Joe's mother would hasten to the Citadel to see things for herself, taking probably another neighbour with her.

The Citadel, a splendid building has been put up as a result of the reuniting of the Corps.

In addition to "Specializing," we understand that Mrs. Stanton, is leader of Bible and Preparatory Classes in New York and Newark, New Jersey—both in the New York

City, at for example, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, and Wilkes-Barre. Industrial Homes are conducted in connection with these Headquarters, where they are in separate buildings. Here Salvage Work on a large scale is carried on, the men thus employed sleeping in the Homes, and not in the barracks.

Lieut. Colonel Parker, it should be mentioned, is Social Secretary for the Eastern States.

Mrs. Stanton, in recalling a week-end of theirs at Pen Argol, down among the Pennsylvania slate quarries, told an inspiring story of soul-saving. The population of the town may number 4,000 souls. They are mainly of Cornish descent. "Officers were appointed to take charge of the Corps from the Training College. For the first year of their command nothing exceptional happened. Then a time of glorious revival began, and in three months there were about three hundred conversions.

During this period salvation meetings were held on week-day afternoons, and men and women would turn in for a few minutes from business or home duties to see what was going on, the men to go back to work with a new sense of wonder and perhaps conviction of sin, and the women excitedly to announce to a neighbour, "Your Joe's at the Mercy Seat!"

Whereupon Joe's mother would hasten to the Citadel to see things for herself, taking probably another neighbour with her.

The Citadel, a splendid building has been put up as a result of the reuniting of the Corps.

In addition to "Specializing," we understand that Mrs. Stanton, is leader of Bible and Preparatory Classes in New York and Newark, New Jersey—both in the New York

City, at for example, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, and Wilkes-Barre. Industrial Homes are conducted in connection with these Headquarters, where they are in separate buildings. Here Salvage Work on a large scale is carried on, the men thus employed sleeping in the Homes, and not in the barracks.

Lieut. Colonel Parker, it should be mentioned, is Social Secretary for the Eastern States.

Mrs. Stanton, in recalling a week-end of theirs at Pen Argol, down among the Pennsylvania slate quarries, told an inspiring story of soul-saving. The population of the town may number 4,000 souls. They are mainly of Cornish descent. "Officers were appointed to take charge of the Corps from the Training College. For the first year of their command nothing exceptional happened. Then a time of glorious revival began, and in three months there were about three hundred conversions.

During this period salvation meetings were held on week-day afternoons, and men and women would turn in for a few minutes from business or home duties to see what was going on, the men to go back to work with a new sense of wonder and perhaps conviction of sin, and the women excitedly to announce to a neighbour, "Your Joe's at the Mercy Seat!"

Whereupon Joe's mother would hasten to the Citadel to see things for herself, taking probably another neighbour with her.

The Citadel, a splendid building has been put up as a result of the reuniting of the Corps.

In addition to "Specializing," we understand that Mrs. Stanton, is leader of Bible and Preparatory Classes in New York and Newark, New Jersey—both in the New York

City, at for example, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, and Wilkes-Barre. Industrial Homes are conducted in connection with these Headquarters, where they are in separate buildings. Here Salvage Work on a large scale is carried on, the men thus employed sleeping in the Homes, and not in the barracks.

Lieut. Colonel Parker, it should be mentioned, is Social Secretary for the Eastern States.

Mrs. Stanton, in recalling a week-end of theirs at Pen Argol, down among the Pennsylvania slate quarries, told an inspiring story of soul-saving. The population of the town may number 4,000 souls. They are mainly of Cornish descent. "Officers were appointed to take charge of the Corps from the Training College. For the first year of their command nothing exceptional happened. Then a time of glorious revival began, and in three months there were about three hundred conversions.

During this period salvation meetings were held on week-day afternoons, and men and women would turn in for a few minutes from business or home duties to see what was going on, the men to go back to work with a new sense of wonder and perhaps conviction of sin, and the women excitedly to announce to a neighbour, "Your Joe's at the Mercy Seat!"

AMERICAN SOCIAL WORK.

(Continued from Page 7)

is, as for example, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, and Wilkes-Barre. Industrial Homes are conducted in connection with these Headquarters, where they are in separate buildings. Here Salvage Work on a large scale is carried on, the men thus employed sleeping in the Homes, and not in the barracks.

Lieut. Colonel Parker, it should be mentioned, is Social Secretary for the Eastern States.

Mrs. Stanton, in recalling a week-end of theirs at Pen Argol, down among the Pennsylvania slate quarries, told an inspiring story of soul-saving. The population of the town may number 4,000 souls. They are mainly of Cornish descent. "Officers were appointed to take charge of the Corps from the Training College. For the first year of their command nothing exceptional happened. Then a time of glorious revival began, and in three months there were about three hundred conversions.

During this period salvation meetings were held on week-day afternoons, and men and women would turn in for a few minutes from business or home duties to see what was going on, the men to go back to work with a new sense of wonder and perhaps conviction of sin, and the women excitedly to announce to a neighbour, "Your Joe's at the Mercy Seat!"

Whereupon Joe's mother would hasten to the Citadel to see things for herself, taking probably another neighbour with her.

The Citadel, a splendid building has been put up as a result of the reuniting of the Corps.

In addition to "Specializing," we understand that Mrs. Stanton, is leader of Bible and Preparatory Classes in New York and Newark, New Jersey—both in the New York

City, at for example, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, and Wilkes-Barre. Industrial Homes are conducted in connection with these Headquarters, where they are in separate buildings. Here Salvage Work on a large scale is carried on, the men thus employed sleeping in the Homes, and not in the barracks.

Lieut. Colonel Parker, it should be mentioned, is Social Secretary for the Eastern States.

Mrs. Stanton, in recalling a week-end of theirs at Pen Argol, down among the Pennsylvania slate quarries, told an inspiring story of soul-saving. The population of the town may number 4,000 souls. They are mainly of Cornish descent. "Officers were appointed to take charge of the Corps from the Training College. For the first year of their command nothing exceptional happened. Then a time of glorious revival began, and in three months there were about three hundred conversions.

During this period salvation meetings were held on week-day afternoons, and men and women would turn in for a few minutes from business or home duties to see what was going on, the men to go back to work with a new sense of wonder and perhaps conviction of sin, and the women excitedly to announce to a neighbour, "Your Joe's at the Mercy Seat!"

Whereupon Joe's mother would hasten to the Citadel to see things for herself, taking probably another neighbour with her.

The Citadel, a splendid building has been put up as a result of the reuniting of the Corps.

In addition to "Specializing," we understand that Mrs. Stanton, is leader of Bible and Preparatory Classes in New York and Newark, New Jersey—both in the New York

City, at for example, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, and Wilkes-Barre. Industrial Homes are conducted in connection with these Headquarters, where they are in separate buildings. Here Salvage Work on a large scale is carried on, the men thus employed sleeping in the Homes, and not in the barracks.

Lieut. Colonel Parker, it should be mentioned, is Social Secretary for the Eastern States.

Mrs. Stanton, in recalling a week-end of theirs at Pen Argol, down among the Pennsylvania slate quarries, told an inspiring story of soul-saving. The population of the town may number 4,000 souls. They are mainly of Cornish descent. "Officers were appointed to take charge of the Corps from the Training College. For the first year of their command nothing exceptional happened. Then a time of glorious revival began, and in three months there were about three hundred conversions.

During this period salvation meetings were held on week-day afternoons, and men and women would turn in for a few minutes from business or home duties to see what was going on, the men to go back to work with a new sense of wonder and perhaps conviction of sin, and the women excitedly to announce to a neighbour, "Your Joe's at the Mercy Seat!"

Whereupon Joe's mother would hasten to the Citadel to see things for herself, taking probably another neighbour with her.

The Citadel, a splendid building has been put up as a result of the reuniting of the Corps.

In addition to "Specializing," we understand that Mrs. Stanton, is leader of Bible and Preparatory Classes in New York and Newark, New Jersey—both in the New York

City, at for example, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, and Wilkes-Barre. Industrial Homes are conducted in connection with these Headquarters, where they are in separate buildings. Here Salvage Work on a large scale is carried on, the men thus employed sleeping in the Homes, and not in the barracks.

Lieut. Colonel Parker, it should be mentioned, is Social Secretary for the Eastern States.

Mrs. Stanton, in recalling a week-end of theirs at Pen Argol, down among the Pennsylvania slate quarries, told an inspiring story of soul-saving. The population of the town may number 4,000 souls. They are mainly of Cornish descent. "Officers were appointed to take charge of the Corps from the Training College. For the first year of their command nothing exceptional happened. Then a time of glorious revival began, and in three months there were about three hundred conversions.

During this period salvation meetings were held on week-day afternoons, and men and women would turn in for a few minutes from business or home duties to see what was going on, the men to go back to work with a new sense of wonder and perhaps conviction of sin, and the women excitedly to announce to a neighbour, "Your Joe's at the Mercy Seat!"

Whereupon Joe's mother would hasten to the Citadel to see things for herself, taking probably another neighbour with her.

The Citadel, a splendid building has been put up as a result of the reuniting of the Corps.

In addition to "Specializing," we understand that Mrs. Stanton, is leader of Bible and Preparatory Classes in New York and Newark, New Jersey—both in the New York

City, at for example, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, and Wilkes-Barre. Industrial Homes are conducted in connection with these Headquarters, where they are in separate buildings. Here Salvage Work on a large scale is carried on, the men thus employed sleeping in the Homes, and not in the barracks.

Lieut. Colonel Parker, it should be mentioned, is Social Secretary for the Eastern States.

Mrs. Stanton, in recalling a week-end of theirs at Pen Argol, down among the Pennsylvania slate quarries, told an inspiring story of soul-saving. The population of the town may number 4,000 souls. They are mainly of Cornish descent. "Officers were appointed to take charge of the Corps from the Training College. For the first year of their command nothing exceptional happened. Then a time of glorious revival began, and in three months there were about three hundred conversions.

Summer Number of "The Young Soldier"

This special number of our Children's paper is now ready, and can be obtained from your Corps' Officer.

Some of the contents are as follows:—

"The Twins' Birthday," a charming story for the little ones, containing a strong moral lesson, by Mrs. Staff-Captain Arnold. "The Children of the Poor," and how The Army is helping them in many ways, by the Editor of "The War Cry." "The Noble Horse," some good stories showing how sensible these beautiful creatures are and how they return kindness. "How to Keep Saved," by our late General, "Annex's Conversion," a story of a little Italian girl's faithfulness and its results.

The paper is profusely illustrated with just the sort of pictures the children like, and the price is only two cents. Be sure to obtain a copy for your children.

Chief Division. Her Tuesdays and Wednesdays are thus largely occupied. It is bound by these clothes helping to influence The Army's Young People, especially the children of Officers, as well as to fit the Young People's Local Officers for their responsible duties with the children.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Be on the lookout for decayed meat. It is poison. The nose will sometimes warn you.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

Do not allow men to remain in camp after quitting. This advice is always good, but especially so in hot weather.

RETURNS AS MAJOR.

After 25 Years, and Finds Convert Still Serving God.

To revisit Colonel, a Corps where, as a young Officer, he was stationed over twenty-five years ago, was the experience of Major Miller, of Territorial Headquarters, on Sunday, July 6th. In the afternoon the Major led the meeting, held on a bonfire, and around which a large crowd gathered. A record offering was taken up, at least five persons standing near the bandstand each giving a dollar.

At night, after a stirring address by the Major, five persons knelt at the Mercy Seat. An ex-Officer and his wife came seeking pardon of sins, and were followed to the Pentecost-form by their son and daughter. The Junior Sergeant-Major's brother also came forward.

During the day, the Major visited and prayed with an old comrade who got converted during his early-day command of the Corps, and who, praise God, is still rejoicing in the knowledge of salvation. It was the Major who prayed with him when he first knelt at the Pentecost-form, so many years ago.

Adjutant and Mrs. Rock are now in charge. Their work is appreciated. Recently they arranged, on a large scale, a picnic for the Juniors. Altogether six wagons were used, and drove with the Band at the head, paraded the streets on the morning of the picnic, causing something of a sensation.

Adjutant Driscoll, of Winnipeg, recently visited Montreal, and on returning to the West, acted as conductor to a party of new-comers.

The Army's Musical Instrument Factory at St. Albans, England, has orders on hand for two instruments for Canada and Australia.

Caps, Hats, and Bonnets

A Beautiful Miniature Portrait Bust of The Late General, postpaid 10c

- LADIES' CHIP HATS.
Sizes 4, 5, and 6. Each.....$2.75
- LADIES' BEST PEDAL STRAW HATS.
Sizes 4, 5, and 6. Each.....$3.00
- LADIES' BONNETS.
Quality 1; sizes 4, 5, and 6. Each.....$2.45
Quality 2; sizes 4, 5, and 6. Each.....$2.25
- LADIES' DRESS GOODS.
An excellent piece of Dark Navy Lustre, per yard, oct.....90c

- BAND CAPS.
White Duck, light and comfortable to the head. Sizes 5 1/2 to 7 1/2.....$1.25
Blue Regulation, very strong and serviceable. Sizes as above.....$2.25
Private's Caps. Sizes as above.....$2.00

- MEN'S UNIFORMS.
Prices for Suits range from $14.00 to $22.00. Tailor-made. SEND FOR SAMPLES AND MEASUREMENT FORMS.

Your Opportunity is now to secure an excellent addition to your Library

- "Life of General William Booth," by G. S. Railton, his first Commissioner, postpaid.....85c
"Other Speech" by Harold Begbie, A fascinating work. A marvellous evidence of the power of the Gospel in convicting and converting men. Postpaid.....60c
- A Remittance of $2.25 Will Secure the Above to Any Address in Canada. Address All orders to the TRADE SECRETARY, James and Albert Street,

- "Life of Mrs. General Booth," 2-vol. edition, $5.50
"The S. A. Year Book" for 1923, by Colonel Theodore Kitching. This publication contains a mine of information. No F.O. Candidate, or Soldier should be without it. Postpaid.....35c

THE GENERAL TO VISIT CANADA

For the signature:

THE COMMISSIONER

1. The first part of the document is a list of references. The references are as follows:

- 1. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).
- 2. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).
- 3. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).
- 4. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).
- 5. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).
- 6. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).
- 7. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).
- 8. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).
- 9. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).
- 10. J. H. D. Elms, Proc. R. Soc. London, Ser. A, 195, 1 (1948).

FOR ALL THE BEST

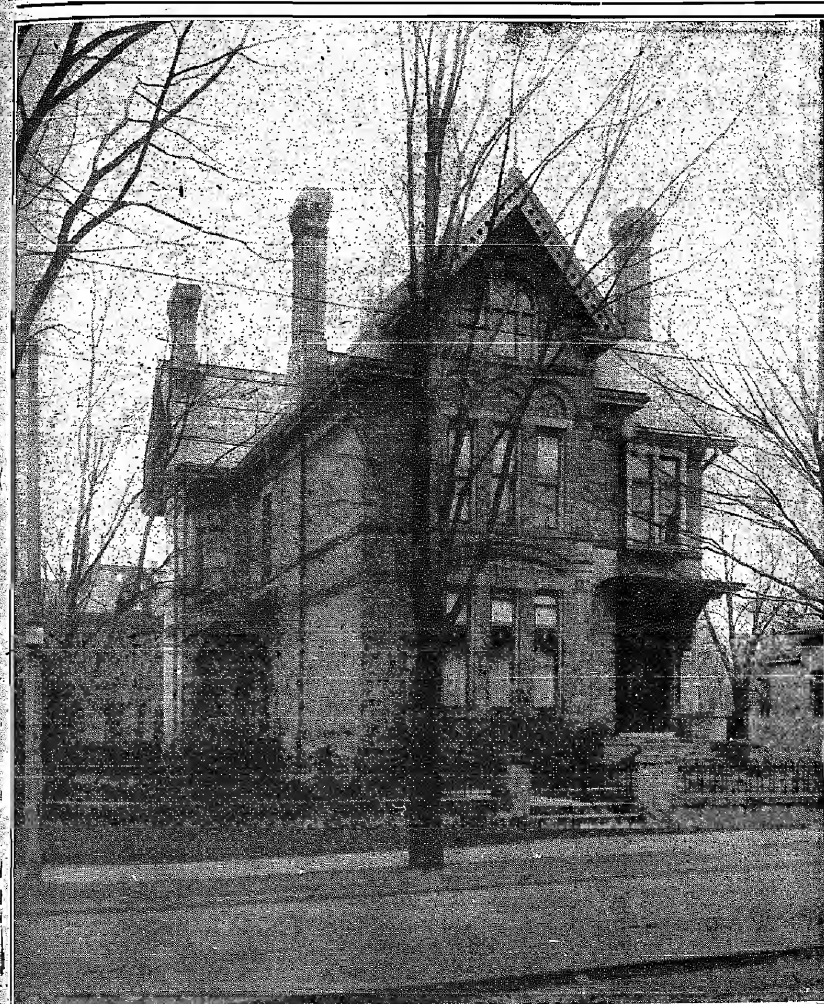

The report of John Joe Gahagan, Frank Johnson, of Hamilton, said that he and another person, James Jones, had taken the boat back from the harbor on board of the boat and under Captain Frank Johnson's command. The boat was taken back to the harbor on the 10th of the month.

Have You Heard the Call?

READ THE

1. The first step is to identify the problem or goal. This involves understanding the current situation and what needs to be achieved.

...the ...

Women's Social Training Institute, Toronto.
THIS BUILDING IS BEING FITTED UP TO RECEIVE THE CADETS WHO ARE TO BE TRAINED FOR THE WOMEN'S SOCIAL WORK. THE SESSION WILL OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 15TH.